May 14, 2025 | 1200 - 1400 EDT

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Join us for an in-depth webinar addressing the unique occupational and organizational stressors that impact the forensic science professional. This webinar will equip attendees with practical tools and insights to enhance resilience, recognize early warning signs of burnout, and foster a culture of support within their organizations.

This webinar will help you:

- Understand secondary trauma & burnout
 - Recognize how occupational and organizational stress uniquely affects forensic professionals and how to spot the warning signs.
- Build personalized resilience strategies
 - Identify individual triggers and create tailored coping mechanisms for long-term career sustainability.
- Understand the science of stress & recovery
 - How prolonged exposure to trauma impacts the brain and body, and actionable ways to counteract it.
- Learn practical tools for immediate implementation
 - Participants will leave with strategies like structured decompression routines, mindfulness techniques, and workplace advocacy tips.
- Foster a culture of support in leadership
 - How supervisors and teams can create an environment that encourages well-being and longevity in the field.

WHY CHOOSE US?

Our specialized training and resources bridge the gap between generic leadership courses and traditional forensic technician training, equipping you with the skills and knowledge needed for professional development in your forensic career.
